Food for your Imagination!

Starting September 14th, 2012, Alter Ego Press will be bringing you books from all over the world that thrill and entice.

Alter Ego Press aims to provide a stage for emerging and established authors, so they can share their work in English with readers from all over the world, both as paperbacks and e-books.

We kick off in 2013 with at least a dozen books from Dutch authors and a wide selection of short stories. During 2013, the following novels and series will be released:

TERRITORIA, BOOK 1: THE CHAINS OF AMARATH - J. Sharpe

A dark series in the style of 'The Gunslinger' and 'The Talisman'. After Cindy lost her parents and sister, she receives a call from someone who claims he has her sister. She discovers the existence of a dark realm, where evil has already been victorious. Together with a small band of die-hards she tries to save her sister. But can anyone be trusted in a world where all hope has been vanquished?

YOGIAN TRILOGY, BOOK 1: SHADOW OF THE HARPY - Latoya Moirae

In a world where magic is fading as industrialisation and the power of steam rapidly advance, a small village called Yougian is the nexus for several mysterious events. We follow the young inhabitants of Yougian as they try to save their village and families from the last dark powers that threaten their world.

LILITH TRILOGY, BOOK 1: BOUND IN DARKNESS - Kim ten Tusscher

Lilith, a dragon shapeshifter, has been robbed by a religious zealot who wants to submit all people to the rule of the god Jacob. As a young woman, Lilith realises what horrors she has brought on the world and she flees to the city of Merzia. She is captured by Fehrdessar, who sees her as little more than a weapon against her former master. A story about people who are good nor evil, but are prepared to do anything for their god, their people or for revenge.

HYDRHAGA - Kim ten Tusscher

A young woman travels to a mythical city where all sorrows and troubles are left behind. She discovers that things that sound too good to be true, generally are. She becomes entangled in the ages-old battle between two elves. One wishes to avenge his people and wants to destroy the lands of man, the other wishes to stop him... or doesn't he?

SHADOW OF THE REVENANT , BOOK 1: RHIDAUNA - Paul Horsman

In this epic fantasy-tale we follow a band of young men who have lost everything. Their castle has been burned down by a legendary but forgotten foe, yet no one dares to believe the ancient evil has re-emerged. They embark on a quest for revenge, a journey that will bring them first to the realm of Rhidauna, where they discover one of them is more than he thought he was.

DEAD CURRENTS - Sarina Star

A collection of six stories about the supernatural, occult occurrences, magic and the unexplainable. Embark on a journey through our world as you have not seen it before, where fairy-tales are grim and bloody and old horror stories prove to be much more than they seem.

THE EARTH REALM, BOOK 1: ANIRA AND THE HUNES - Jochem de Jong

Anira is forced to accompany her father, a duke of the realm, on his journey to aid his brother. Her uncle Ervengaal has been ordered to build a settlement in a remote part of the realm, but settlers keep disappearing. Has this anything to do with the mythical creatures called the Hunes, and how are Anira's dreams about the cruel god of war tied into this?

LEGEND OF THE SKYRIDERS, BOOK 1: THE LIBRARY GANG - Michael Reefs

The first novel in this series tells the story of four friends who discover the legend of the Skyriders is true. Long ago, the Axeman murdered a fellowship of seekers and prevented them from fulfilling their destiny. Now, the gang has to discover what lies under the new library that has been built on the old hill. But there's something weird about the new librarian, and the ghosts of the seekers are emerging to warn the children: Beware, the axeman cometh.

Looking for a publisher for your novel?

Alter Ego Press is always looking for promising and innovative authors. We also publish thrillers, young adult, suspense, horror, graphic novels and more.

We are also looking for creative people to complement our staff of illustrators and editors.

Think you have what it takes? Mail a synopsis and (part of) your novel, or the link to your portfolio, or your credentials to info@alteregopress.com.
